

TWO MEN TAKEN FROM MINE ALIVE

Their Rescue Is One Bright Spot in Connection With Tragedy at Greenvale.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Norton, Va., December 15.—Finding conditions more favorable, and deciding to continue the rescue work, which it was thought would have to be given up at an earlier hour in the evening, the rescuers at the Bond Coal Company mines at Greenvale, where an explosion occurred yesterday, succeeded in bringing the last two men from the mines alive.

The men, J. E. Leeman and John Ritzker, were found about 2 o'clock this morning in a semi-conscious condition, having been in the mine since 11 o'clock in the morning. A mule was also rescued with the men, who were entertained the thought that the last two men to be found could possibly be living at that hour. They happened to be a considerable distance from the heat from the explosion, and not far from the only air current available. Leeman is a married man, with three children, and the restoration of him to his family, when they thought him dead, and the recovery of the other man, make up the one bright spot on the whole horrible picture. It is said that both men will recover speedily.

The death toll in the explosion in the mine yesterday was ten men. Nine were killed in the explosion and one died after being taken out.

Various opinions are held as to the cause of the explosion. Mining experts from a number of neighboring operations are studying the conditions today, and some definite conclusion may be reached by tomorrow.

The remains of James Barrowman, the superintendent who was killed yesterday, will be buried here tomorrow in Highland Cemetery. Mr. Barrowman was a brother of Mrs. Robert Fleming, whose husband is superintendent of the Norton Land and Improvement Company.

MR. MEANY ELECTED

Only Southern Man on Executive Committee of New Order.

Thos. F. Meany, chief deputy collector of Internal Revenue Service of the Richmond office, returned yesterday from Washington, where he has been attending the first national convention of the National Association of Internal Revenue of the United States. Mr. Meany was elected a member of the executive committee of this body, and has the distinction of being the only man south of the Mason and Dixon line to be chosen.

A strong effort was made by Mr. Meany to secure the western convention for this city, and though it was captured by New York, Mr. Meany has little doubt that Richmond will land it for 1912.

FIRM'S FAS WIRE BEA KNETCKER

Enabled Brokers to Play on Basis "Heads Win; Tails You Lose."

NETTED VAS' PROFITS

Yesterday's Federal Raids Will Be Followed by Others

To Do.

Chicago, Ill., December 15.—Federal agents tonight moved to swoop down early tomorrow upon twenty-six branches of the Otis Investment Company scattered through eight Middle Western States, following the sensational raid on the main office and four branches of this company in Chicago and branches in Joliet and in Aurora, Ill., today, is round up will mark one of the most extensive movements in the history of the government's war against alleged get-rich-quick concerns.

According to agents of the Department of Justice, the Otis Investment Company controlled 500 miles of leased wires to supply the branches with news of the New York stock market, and was doing a business of more than $100,000 annually. It is said that on one point here in the market the concern netted $50,000 in a single day.

The government alleges that the firm dealt with its customers on a basis of "heads I win; tails you lose."

In this connection federal agents say that the company controlled two fast New York wires which were beating the "ticker" with regular market quotations, for from three to five minutes. With this advance information, the men in charge of the company's office would decide if orders would be placed. The company charges the concern bought in stocks outright, but took a commission on all orders and then played the "longs" against the "shorts."

Although operated at a loss six months in the year, because of its extended wire service and many branches, the concern is said to have been a big payer at the end of the year. It recently has been dealing heavily in cotton.

This concern is a successor to the Hammond Elevator Company, which did a big bit of the wheat business for a number of years.

Among the warrants that have not been served in connection with the case are those of Simon McElie, William R. Holligan, of New York, and Wm. Lloyd, district traffic manager for the Western Union Telegraph Company, in Chicago. It is expected that seven more arrests will be made here.

In the federal building to-night it was said that the Capital Investment Company case would be taken before a federal grand jury and indictments returned by the United States District Attorney's office.

RECOMMENDATIONS MADE

IN GRAND JURY REPORT

Improvements to Certain Public Buildings, Including School, Is Suggested.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Alexandria, Va., December 15.—A grand jury in the Corporation Court this afternoon, with C. Harry Yohn as foreman, made some sweeping recommendations for improvements to certain public buildings, including public school buildings, and in addition visited the places designated and reported on the report.

The report, the jurors declare, is solely in the interest of the general health and for the welfare and safety of those living in the city.

Among other things they recommend the purchase of a patrol wagon and a direct street car station and among the members of the department, it having come to their knowledge that members of the department have frequently given out information to outsiders which should have been withheld.

The jury, among other things, says that the recommendations of the grand jury of March, 1908, have not been complied with in reference to the Bradock House. They make certain recommendations for openings in this place in case of fire, it being said that 150 persons are accommodated there and at times frequently more. The jury recommends that the room in the rear, now used as a stable, be discontinued, and that the place be inspected once a month by a city health officer, with a view of improving sanitary conditions.

Hovell public school building, a three-story brick structure, for boys ranging in age from seven to thirteen years, the jury declared they found in bad shape, among other things being overcrowded, from fifty to seventy-five boys being crowded in a room twenty by thirty feet. In conclusion they recommend that the city abandon the use of this building for school purposes as soon as possible.

In conclusion the report says: "It is not only a fire trap, but a menace to the health of the children and teachers."

Slight changes are recommended at two theatres where moving pictures are in operation.

Adolphus Robinson, a negro, indicted for robbing George W. Petter, chief of the fire department, by whom he was employed, of $291, entered a plea of guilty in the Corporation Court this morning and was sentenced to serve a term of five years in the penitentiary.
